Iain Morris, Damon Beesley : The Inbetweeners Scriptbook: The Complete Scripts with Added Extras before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Inbetweeners Scriptbook: The Complete Scripts with Added Extras:

All 18 scripts from the show, with added, never-before-seen material from the writers. The perfect gift for all die-hard Inbetweeners fans, this book features all 18 scripts of the television show, each with its own introduction from the writers and creators, who share behind-the-scenes stories about filming, the writing process, and the real events that inspired the show's storylines.

"Probably the best comedy series of the past 20 years and every script and more is here in this MUST of a book. Don't even think about waiting for Christmas." * Weekend Sport * "After the fab The Inbetweeners Yearbook comes the complete scripts from the TV show. Each episode has its own intro along with true stories of how characters and themes came about...so, go on, relive the hilarity!" * Star Magazine * "All 18 scripts from the TV show, with introductions from the writers, behind-the-scenes stories, the real-life inspiration behind the stories and a wodge of piccies." * Heat * About the Author Iain Morris and Damon Beesley are the cocreators and writers of the multi-award-winning sitcom The Inbetweeners. They met while working on The 11 O'Clock Show, a satirical late night show most famous for launching the careers of Ricky Gervais and Sacha Baron Cohen. They also have both written for Flight of the Conchords, for which Beesley received two Writers Guild of America nominations.
