

(Download free pdf) The Real Mrs. Brown

The Real Mrs. Brown

Brian Beacom

*DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub*

Download

Read Online

#2009865 in Books imusti 2014-07-15 2014-07-15Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 7.75 x .88 x 5.131, .0
#File Name: 1444754513384 pagesHodder Stoughton | File size: 56.Mb

Brian Beacom : The Real Mrs. Brown before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Real Mrs. Brown:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. A Mrs. Brown fan's must read!By James CooperGreat Read! If I didn't know better I'd say Brendan wrote it himself! However since most the stories in it are near quotes from him, he'd might as well have! Kudos to Brian Beacom he captured both of this comic genius' egos. And in it goes on to tell the monumental ups and downs of his life. If you are a O'Carroll or Mrs. Brown fan this tells the back story to the rise of a legend!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Awesome readBy bookwormI loved every minute of this book, reading about Brendan O'Carroll's childhood, his life, family importance and struggles in his career. I was aware of his comedic talent in England and also that his family members and friends take part in his Mrs (Agnes) Brown's Boys creation, but there seems to be much more depth to him which came out in this authorised biography. It kept my interest from start to finish. What a combination of warm, funny and touching while also showing his fierce determination and great strength in never giving up (and how that has paid off for him!).0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. The Real Mrs. Brown: The Authorised Biography of Brendan O'CarrollBy annfitzAs a big fan of the T.V. show I enjoyed this book tremendously and consider Brendan O'Carroll one of the funniest comedians I have ever seen. This book was a fascinating insight into his life and how he left school at the age of twelve and then managed to make a lot of money only to have it all stolen from him by a friend and then to overcome this to become one of the most famous comedians.I would thoroughly recommend this book.

Who'd have thought a potty-mouthed Dublin mammy with a cream cardigan and elasticated tan tights could storm British TV screens and leave a nation helpless with laughter? Brendan O'Carroll performs to tens of thousands of people a night in packed-out stadiums across the country. In the last four years his TV show has become a number 1 ratings success and he's even making a movie. But Brendan has had to battle hard for success. The youngest of eleven children, his mother was Maureen O'Carroll, a former nun who went on to become the first woman to be elected to the Irish parliament. Brendan adored his strong, widowed mother - and she later became the inspiration for his indomitable character Agnes Brown. However, the family endured poverty reminiscent of Angela's Ashes and Brendan saw no option but to leave school at 12 to work. He married young and for decades struggled to make ends meet. Eventually, bankrupt and desperate, Brendan went to see a fortune teller who told him she could see his future achieving worldwide success as a comedian and actor. At first Brendan laughed at the notion, but then he thought of how much his friends loved his gags, and decided to give it a go... This is the magical story of how a loveable Irishman with a wig and a wit as caustic as battery acid surprised everyone - most of all himself - by becoming one of the best-loved comedians in the world. It is a story of hardship, heartbreak, and talent and will remind readers afresh that sometimes the facts can be even more extraordinary than the fiction.

This is the amazing story of the man behind the matriarch * Choice *About the AuthorBrendan O'Carroll was born in Dublin in 1955, the youngest of eleven children. He left school aged twelve and over the years worked in a variety of jobs before turning to stand-up comedy in his forties.Since then the father-of-three has become a bestselling novelist and is now one of the world's most successful comedians.Brian Beacom is an award-winning entertainment writer at the Herald and Times group of newspapers based in Glasgow. He has written four books and two plays.