

(Free and download) The Wireless Theatre Collection, Vol. 1

The Wireless Theatre Collection, Vol. 1

The Wireless Theatre Company
*ebooks | Download PDF | *ePub | DOC | audiobook*

Download

Read Online

2016-06-28 Formats: Audiobook, CD Original language: English PDF # 10 6.00 x 5.00 x 1.50l, Running time: 32160 seconds Binding: Audio CD 1 pages | File size: 78.Mb

The Wireless Theatre Company : The Wireless Theatre Collection, Vol. 1 before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Wireless Theatre Collection, Vol. 1:

Ten audio theater Full Cast productions from London's award-winning Wireless Theatre Company The award-winning and critically acclaimed Wireless Theatre Company strives to keep radio theater alive and well. From the hilarious to the terrifying, this diverse collection features ten Wireless Theatre productions in a single volume: Spook Squad by Jim Spiers, directed by Jack Bowman : A mismatched bunch of oddballs, geeks, and psychotics venture to a haunted inn to record a groundbreaking television show. 2010: Space Commander! by Stuart Price, directed by David Beck : It seems obvious to us that we are heading for a "body-free" future. That may seem awful, but it could provide many benefits once we get used to it. Dream On by Paul Ekert, directed by Tom Brazier : Robert has dreams about his dead ex-wife. As dreams and reality overlap, Robert undertakes a desperate hunt to find out why this is happening. The Grimm of Stottesden Hall, written and directed by Stuart Price : Based on the works of Edgar Allan Poe, The Grimm of Stottesden Hall takes listeners on a journey of madness, terror, and gruesome murder! Phonophobia by Jack Bowman and Robert Valentine, directed by Tom Brazier : A history student makes a chance discovery: an old scrap of paper with a code hiding the last musical score of the evil Anton Valderberg Drache. Medusa on the Beach by Marty Ross : When everyone in the town of Biddlecombe is turned to stone, two police officers must uncover the strange truth. The Youth of Old Age, written and directed by Stuart Price : As the story's matriarch, Prunella Scales is determined to prevent her heir from marrying "out of sorts." Devon Girl by Zalie Burrow, directed by Cherry Cookson : Living on a farm, Sally has her work cut out. But with the love of local farm boy Johnny Hutchins, life can be full of frolics. Radio Hoohah, written and directed by Octavia MacKenzie and Ashley McGuire : Radio Hoohah is a hilarious BBC Radio Four spoof. Angels in the Dark, written and directed by Susan Casanove : Roger Benezoscee is the worst boss you've ever had. What could possibly force him to change his ways?

About the AuthorThe Wireless Theatre Company is an award-winning radio drama group based in London. Their talented team of actors, directors, and writers hail from some of England's most prestigious theatrical institutions, including the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, the London Academy of Music and Dramatic Art, the East 15 Acting School, and London's West End theatre district. Their original and innovative radio plays have included such notable English actors as Stephen Fry, Abi Titmuss, Brian Blessed, Prunella Scales, Timothy West, Jo Brand, and Nicholas Parsons. Their studio and live radio drama productions cover all genres, including mystery, comedy, drama, science fiction, fantasy, horror, and thrillers.